EDITORIAL COMMENT.

CASTE IN MINING.

That peculiar element in human nature that draws lines of distinction between high brows and low brows, between royalty and democracy, between rich and poor, is oftentimes extended to other realms, says the Mining Record. The fellow interested in the big producer may assume an air of amused dignity when talking about a little producer, "It don't amount to much," explains the big fellow, "because it is producing but a nominal amount of ore." Twenty-four hours later, the little mine breaks into a big pay shoot. Three months later, its net ore reserves exceed the reserves of the formerly big mine, and in a year, what was once the weakling is the giant.

Mining is one of those things that must be judged with diplomacy. The most promising fall into decay; the most unlikely become the big producers; or, the promising make good; the poor ones fail. We can't tell without—development. In fact there are folks believing in the brotherhood of man, who believe development will destroy the caste lines anywhere, and will prove the plebeian of today the ruler of tomorrow. But we find some excuse for drawing lines of social distinction in men. No matter how clever a fellow may be, he has no right trotting in the million dollar class with a 30-cent backing. The mine may be in the 30-cent list one month, and in the million-dollar class the next.

Development is the one thing that determines caste and class in mining. The ore can't be cajoled to the surface; it will not come because of a pink tea or any other social reasons. Hence, to laugh without reason is like the crackling of thorns under the pot—a hollow, meaningless sound.

As a man grows older he has more sympathy for other men who are not able to deliver the goods.

A diplomat is a man who has acquired the art of going after what he wants while the other fellow is waiting.

CALIFORNIANS BUY GRANITE PROPERTY

The Granite Mining and Leasing company's lease on the Golden Age at Granite has been sold to San Francisco parties. Davis and Warren, who associated with Smith and McCormick, the Schurz mill men, have purchased the property and will take charge in ten days. The new lessees will install machinery and push the tunnel, now in 200 feet, with all possible haste. As a success, this proposition is the United States bond class. They not only have a large body of ore in sight on their own ground but the depth they get on the vein will give them over 700 feet of backs for a custom tunnel to work Big 20.

The Wilson Gold Mines company has a mill of its own built on the Walker river and the 100 tons of ore on the dump will be transported for treatment.

A thirty-day bond was given on the Red Crow group, owned by N. W. Willis, to Clarence L. Anderson of San Francisco, California. The consideration is $20,000. Mr. Anderson is very much impressed with the district and will more than likely take over both the Wilson Gold Mines and Red Crow properties.

Adamson and Grube have cut Big 20 ledge with their tunnel and are sacking ore for shipment. Big 20 No. 2 and Brooks-Graham leases are getting ready their second shipments which will go forward very shortly.

Mrs. M. Mingle of Salmon, Idaho, recently purchased an interest in Big 20 No. 2 lease, five lots in Granite and the Mocha cafe. Mrs. Mingle has a wide experience in mining camps and knows a good thing when she sees it.—Western Nevada Miner.

CASSIE CHADWICK MONEY BARRED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—"Cassie Chadwick" money is to be barred. Chief Wilkie of the secret service having decided that it resembles a $100 note. The "money" is manufactured as an advertising novelty. It is folded like a bill and the exposed portion bears a likeness of the notorious woman swindler. The printing and engraving is made to resemble money in yellow and green. Last week Larkin was arrested at Clayton, New York, for passing one of the advertising novelties for $100 and will be tried in a federal court for passing counterfeit money.

INSURANCE MAN RECEIVES PARDON

ST. PAUL, Aug. 14.—Dr. E. J. Force, former president of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis, has been paroled from the Stillwater penitentiary by the state prison board.

Dr. Force was convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to serve three and one-half years on May 26, 1906. The charge arose out of the misuse of the company's fund by the old management. The company has since been reorganized.

OFFERS BIG BONUS.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 14.—A. R. Peacock of Pittsburg, who is summing near Brookville, Ontario, has offered a bonus of $100,000 to the firm that will build him a motor boat with a guaranteed speed of fifty miles an hour. The Hereschoffs are considering the proposal.

Since coming to the St. Lawrence, Peacock and his sons have acquired a collection of motor boats valued at $50,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—One hundred horses belonging to the stables of James R. Keene and J. B. Haggin will be shipped to Buenos Ayres on August 20 for breeding purposes and to take part in the races there. FARO PLAY STIRS UP NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A story of a faro game at high stakes in a luxuriously furnished dwelling in the fashionable section of upper West Side was disclosed today at the hearing of Martin Phillips, who was arrested late last night charged with larceny. Phillips was arraigned in the West Side court today and was held in $1500 bonds for trial. Melville R. Moxley, formerly of Pittsburg, who gave his present address as this city, was the complainant, alleging that he lost $600 in a faro game dealt by Phillips.

In his story to the court Moxley said he came to New York to work a "system" with Phillips. Moxley said Phillips wrote to him saying they would make $2000 out of Phillips' employer. Moxley, it was alleged, was to put up the necessary money and get 60 per cent of the proceeds, the remaining 40 per cent to go to Phillips.

AFFINITY MINISTER GIVEN FREEDOM

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 15.—At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning the doors of the state prison of New Jersey will swing open and J. Frank Cordova, the unfrocked South River pastor, will step forth a free man, after having served three years four months and eleven days as a result of his mistaken views on the subject of affinities.

It was about four years ago that the case of Cordova filled columns of newspaper space and was discussed from one end of the country to the other. It was the original "affinity" case, antedating by several years the equally famous case of Artist Earle. Both were cases of talented and respected men who found their alleged affinities outside their own households, but in their development and climax the two cases differed very widely.

HARRIMAN PLACES BIG STEEL ORDER

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel corporation, made this statement yesterday:

"The Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific railroad, which is the Harriman Mexican line, has placed an order for 28,000 tons of standard Bessemer rails. They are for practically immediate delivery as the rails will be rolled and shipped in August and September. Delivery is to be made at Guaymas, Mexico."

This order follows very closely upon the requests for 14,000 tons for the Baltimore and Ohio, and 7000 tons for the Boston and Maine.

Wall street and steel and iron men generally look upon these orders as a very encouraging sign in their bearing upon the general trade situation.

DETECTIVES AFTER MISSING SHIPMENT

The disappearance of a sack of amalgam, shipped from Manhattan to the local mint, by Wells-Fargo and company's express is being investigated by C. Cain and T. Elliott, two company detectives, says the Carson News. The shipment was made about ten days ago from the southern camp. It consisted of two sacks, but only one of them reached the mint.

The detectives arrived here yesterday and have been working on the matter since. An effort was made to interview them last night but they denied all knowledge of the matter, but when facts were called to their attention they gave evasive answers. Upon their arrival they enlisted the aid of the state police, but did not ask the local officers to assist.

They spent several hours at the mint and were shown that the shipment was not received there. They are evidently taking this city as a starting point and will trace the billion all along the line. Shipments of this kind are sent from Manhattan to Tonopah by stage, at which point they are loaded on the train. A transfer is made to the train running to Mound House, at which point the V. & T. takes over the express matter.

ANTI-GUGGENHEIM MAN.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 14.—The election returns show that James Wickensham, the anti-Guggenheim candidate has been elected to congress. The Guggenheims voted 900 men who had not been here a month.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AWARDS CONTRACT

OROVILLE, Cal., Aug. 15.—A contract calling for the widening of the Southern Pacific tracks from Colfax to Clipper Gap, a distance of twenty miles, and a boring of a tunnel through a mountain to avoid the sharp Cape Horn curve, and involving work estimated at $2,000,000 has been secured by the Utah Construction company, according to a report emanating from the headquarters of the construction company. The work is to begin as soon as men and machinery can be sent to the place. The widening of the roadbed is for the purpose of double-tracking the road over that portion of the mountain division.

MEETS DEATH FROM AMBUSH.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Ambushed in a lonely spot known as "Murderers' Field," on the Lincoln road in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn late last night Pietro Barilla, a well-to-do hotel-keeper of Woodhaven, was stabbed and shot dead by a number of men. Barilla is thought to have gone to the place to keep an appointment, as a letter was found on his person, seemingly written in blood.

AMERICANS LOSE IN THEIR APPEAL

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 14.—Lewis and Hill, Americans who some time ago were sentenced to life imprisonment for scuttling the ship Agener, have lost the appeal made by them, according to advices in the latest mail from Japan. The Box of Curious of Yokohama says:

"In our opinion there is no doubt that in the Agener case Lewis and Hill were guilty of the crimes charged, but when it comes to life sentence passed upon them we must protest against its injustice when it is compared with other sentences made by Japanese courts. We regret that during our twenty-one years of residence we have not kept a list of some of the many queer sentences that have been rendered by the native judges, for if published in a row they would seem so ridiculous and such strong evidence of the miscarriage of justice that we feel confident the government would take such steps as to secure a proper code, and lay schools to so educate jurists that such far-fetched sentences would not be of so frequent occurrence."

TAYLOR WILL RETURN.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 14.—Ex-Governor Taylor announced today that he would return to Kentucky after the elections and stand trial for complicity in the murder of the late Governor Goebel.
